

MORE SPANKING URGED AS CURE FOR IMPUDENCE

Seventy Per Cent of Criminals
Made So by Parents, Says
School Head.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Nov. 26.—Regret that the old-fashioned application of a shingle or carpet slipper, when Johnny or Mary is impudent and disobedient has passed from the modern home, was expressed by S. B. Tobey, superintendent of schools.

Vigorous application of a slipper while a boy still is in the plastic period of childhood may save him from shame, his parents from his disgrace and the State from trouble and expense," Mr. Tobey said.

"More than 70 per cent of criminals brought into court were made so by the neglect or weakness of their parents."

"We have too much of the spirit of anarchy in the home and in the State."

"I have no patience with the weak, maudlin, timid parent who is hysterically fearful of breaking the selfish will of his delicate offspring, so sensitive, so fragile, so inordinately susceptible to adverse criticism that his life will be a weary, effortless and hopeless waste if his stubborn will is effectually thwarted."

"Every child has the right to be compelled to obey those who justly have authority over him. Parents have reason to be deeply grateful to the teacher who insists upon implicit obedience to reasonable rules and laws."

"The infliction of physical pain is not necessarily degrading either to the administrator or to the recipient. Let even an innocent ignorantly violate a natural law, he must pay the penalty. If he thrust his hand in the fire he cannot escape pain. Is God, the maker and enforcer of natural law, then, cruel and unjust. May not man follow His example with profit?"

Church to Get $10,000

Under C. F. Smith's Will
RICHMOND, Va., Nov. 19.—The building fund of Sacred Heart Catholic church is beneficiary in the sum of $10,000 under the will of the late Cosmos F. Smith, which has been probated in the city circuit court. Announcement of Mr. Smith's bequest was made by the Rev. Father Thomas E. Walters at Sacred Heart church. The will leaves "to the pastor of Sacred Heart Catholic church $10,000 to be applied in the construction of the new church now under contemplation for this parish and for no other purpose whatever."

Rhodes Scholarship

SALEM, Va., Nov. 26.—Roanoke College has announced the recommendation of J. D. Logan, Jr., of Salem, and H. D. Kinsey, of Roanoke, as its candidates for the Cecil Rhodes Scholarship at Oxford University.

Mr. Logan was graduated with high honor from Roanoke in 1919. Throughout his college career, he was a leader in student activities and he was a member of the football squad and captain of the tennis team in 1919. Mr. Logan is now one of the managers of the Garland orchards.

Mr. Kinsey received his degree at Roanoke last June. He is at present instructor in chemistry at his alma mater.

The selection of Virginia's representative to Oxford will be made December 3. Roanoke's last incumbent of the Rhodes Scholarship was Frank A. Reid, '08, who spent three years at the famous English University.

Master Masons Form

Grotto in Huntington

HUNTINGTON, W. Va., Nov. 26.—Master Masons to the number of about 150, in meeting at the Masonic club, organized the first West Virginia chapter of the Mystic Order of Veiled Prophets of the Enchanted Realm, of the Grotto. Election of officers and official application for a charter was the outstanding business of the meeting.

J. G. Kiern was chosen to preside as monarch over the new chapter. Other officers named were: Treasurer, Albert R. Loebe; secretary, Ray M. Davis; captain of the prophet guard, C. Edgar Chapman; band conductor, J. Louis Good; assistant, Herman T. West. Two bands will be organized among the membership of the chapter. The guard to be chosen later, will number fifty men. Howard Brackman was named to prepare the ritualistic equipment.
